

A Message from Our Founder

As the father of four wonderful kids, I know first hand the influence children have on family purchasing decisions. That's one of the main reasons I've dedicated such a big part of my professional life to kids' marketing – because kids' marketing works.

As kids' marketing specialists, we have the experience and market savvy to provide our clients with engaging and successful family dining programs. Our veteran staff shares my dedication to excellence in everything we do – from strategic and creative development to list and database management – all the way through to back-end tracking and analysis. By choosing FMP Direct as your marketing partner, you have my personal guarantee of unsurpassed service, cost efficiency and, most importantly, profitable results.

Give me a call at (800)-995-3343 today, and let's talk about building a customized kids' program just right for your business.

I look forward to becoming a part of your marketing team.

Sincerely,
